GREAT, ENTHUSIASTIC REPUBLICAN MEETING

Senator M. E. Clapp and Hon. J. J. Sullivan Struck a Responsive Chord in the Hearts of Their Auditors.

IT WAS ONE OF THE BEST RALLIES IN YEARS

For several reasons it was impossible for the Republican leaders of East Liverpool to hold more than one meeting in the city during the present campaign, but that one was satisfactory in every way, and the city committee and other party men are gratified beyond measure at the result of last night's demonstration. The speaking by United States Senator Moses E. Clapp and District Attorney J. J. Sullivan was eloquent, logical and to the point; the attendance was all that could be asked and from the enthusiasm of the more than 2,000 voters present, the result will be a swelling of the already overwhelming majority given the ticket in East Liverpool each year in the past.

From early in the evening up to the very moment the meeting was called to order there were indications of a very large crowd. The band paraded the streets for more than an hour previous to the opening of the ceremonies at the Grand opera house, and the large crowd assembled early. The speakers of the evening arrived from the west, and were taken by the reception committee at once to the Thompson house, where they partook of a hasty dinner and were ready for

THE PLAIN DUTY AT THIS HOUR

Sound Advice to Republicans and Patriots at the Ohio Election.

REASON FOR STANDING PAT

Ex-Senator W. V. Blake, the presiding officer at the big Republican rally, spoke briefly on the duty of the hour in opening the meeting last night. He said:

"This splendid assemblage shows irresistible evidence that you are fully alive to the interests and issues that are now before the people of this Commonwealth. On November 3 you will be called to exercise one of the highest prerogatives of an American citizen in voting for the chief executive state officer, members of the legislature and county officers; this is indeed a privilege we cannot value too highly, either can we vote too carefully. The coming election is fraught with grave and momentous issues."

"For many years the Democratic party has been naming the issues. You will remember when tariff for revenue only was their slogan, afterward it was the silver fallacy; then they made the paramount issue, imperialism; this year, as far as Ohio is concerned, the paramount issue is two-cent fare and single tax."

"Throughout the state of Ohio today Tom Johnson and his henchmen are clinging to the caprice and cupidity of the masses. The Republicans are appealing to the loyalty, patriotism and intelligence of American citizenship. United States Senator Dolley claims that the paramount issue this year is to hold on to prosperity started and given us by our lamented McKinley. A Democratic victory on November 3 would mean a surrender to socialism."

"A national question enters into the campaign on November 3. A United States senator is to be chosen by the legislature elected by the people of this state. The state convention had but one choice and endorsed A. Hanna, at the present time the most useful man in public life."

"I enjoin you when you go to cast your ballots on Tuesday ask yourself a question. What will be for the best interest of your county, state and nation? Vote the Republican ticket. By doing so you will add dignity to my wife last night."

MRS. BOOTH TUCKER KILLED IN A WRECK

Colonel Holland Also a Victim—Sad News for the Salvation Army.

Adjutant A. E. Snider, of the Salvation Army, received word from Colonel Holz, of Cleveland, confirming the report of the killing of Mrs. Booth-Tucker in a wreck on the Santa Fe railroad yesterday. Colonel Holland, the head of the colony work in the United States, was so injured in the same wreck that his death resulted.

Mrs. Booth-Tucker was the wife of the American commander and her death will be a great loss to the army and to the religious world.

HE USED A MATCH LOOKING FOR LEAK

Plumber Hurled About and Burned by an Explosion of Gas.

OTHER DAMAGE WAS DONE

Looking for a leak in a gas pipe with a lighted match in his hand came dangerously near causing the death of Edward Kelly, a well known young man of Daisy street, who is employed by a local contracting plumber, shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As a result of the foolhardy act Kelly is suffering from terrible burns about the face.

The accident occurred in a sleeping apartment of the residence of Mrs. A. V. Thompson, directly over her grocery store, Washington and Fourth streets. Some of the members of the family detected the smell of gas and supposing it was due to a leak went to the plumbing shop and asked for a plumber. Kelly was detailed on the job and when he reached the room he found it so dark that he could not see the pipe which runs the entire distance across the apartment. Foolishly he lighted a match and commenced a search for the leak. It did not take him long to find it.

With the match in one hand and his face down close to the pipe, Kelly crept along on the floor. He had reached about middle way of the room when a terrific explosion lifted him high into the air and sent him with awful velocity against the far side of the room. The noise attracted the attention of many and when the room was entered by several it was thought that Kelly was fearfully injured. His face was horribly burned and he presented an appalling sight. He, however, was able to arise and went to his home without assistance.

Besides injuring Kelly the building suffered to considerable extent, and Mrs. Thompson, who was standing in the store room, came near suffering nervous prostration from fright. All of the plastering on the ceiling beneath was blown off and the store goods for quite a distance were completely covered with the debris. Those in the store at the time of the explosion were badly frightened, the crash coming so suddenly and being so extremely loud.

Kelly says that he will never forget the experience and it is assured that he will never search for another gas leak with fire about his person.

A NEW POTTERY

Albert Radford Proposes to Start a Plant for Odd Ware at Clarksburg.

Albert Radford, who has figured successfully in the pottery world, owning at one time the Radford pottery at Zanesville, which he recently sold, will erect a new pottery at Clarksburg, W. Va. The plant will manufacture odd ware, among which is the pretty white and blue ware known as the Jasper. This Mr. Radford successfully placed on the market at Zanesville. He is in the city today looking after a contract for machinery, and visited the Patterson machine shop in his quest. The pottery, it is understood, will be a modern plant, and will be the first industry of the pottery line to invade Clarksburg, which is becoming noted for its variety of new industries.

MR. J. J. SULLIVAN'S LOGIC

Hon. J. J. Sullivan, United States district attorney, of Cleveland, was the first speaker at last night's big rally. He is a humorist, as well as a logician, and kept his auditors deeply interested.

Mr. Sullivan was enthusiastically received and spoke as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and Fellow Citizens: I believe this is the first time in my life that I ever blushed. The very pretty introduction given me by my old friend, Senator Blake, almost made me think I was a candidate. Having been a contestant so often it is difficult for me to realize that I am not at this time."

The speaker won the hearts of his hearers in the very beginning by relating an anecdote in which Asa W. Jones, of Youngstown, who has always been a favorite in this city, was the principal actor. Assuming a more serious strain, the gentleman said:

"It takes a man reckless indeed who has the courage to address an audience in East Liverpool. He is more likely to make Democrats than add anything to the strength of the party in this county. I met a man on the train today, who, after learning where I intended to speak tonight, asked if there really were any Democrats in East Liverpool. So far as I was able to learn I told him there were few and far between."

The session of the clerks' union this morning was a lengthy one, several matters pertaining to the strike, other than the hours for closing, coming up for consideration. An instance of the discharge of a clerk since the inauguration of the strike was reported and a committee was appointed to make an investigation. An adjournment of the meeting was had for dinner and at 2 o'clock the afternoon meeting commenced. Just what terms the merchants offered in the two propositions have not been made public.

One member of the merchants' committee stated this afternoon that the merchants expect the clerks to offer a proposition at the meeting of the two conference committees this afternoon. The merchants are in the dark as to what the terms will be, but some concessions from the original demands are expected.

The best of feeling prevails between the contending parties and the situation is not at all indicative of a long strike. The stores were open as usual today and enjoyed the usual trade, the customers being served for the most part by the owners and members of their families.

One of the two propositions refused by the clerks was returned to the conference committees, and it was reconsidered when the committees met at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. In amended form the proposition was taken up at the afternoon session of the clerks' union.

It was found necessary to give the merchants the opportunity of considering the amended proposition, and for this purpose they will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The conference committees will meet an hour later, when it is expected, the settlement will be made.

As an evidence of the good feeling there was a strong sentiment manifested among the clerks this afternoon to declare a truce if the settlement was not effected Friday and return to work for Saturday so that the public will not be inconvenienced or the merchants lose the trade.

Robert McGee, who went to Wheeling last Sunday in response to a telegram stating that his brother James had been seriously injured, writes a friend that the accident was a horrible one, but that his brother will survive.

According to the letter, McGee, who is a stock dealer, was returning from a trip in the country when the team he was driving became frightened, plunged over a bank and crushed him terribly. A long gash was cut in his stomach and two of his ribs were broken.

STRIKE TO END BY TOMORROW

Both Sides Make This Prediction Regarding the Clerks' Dispute.

SITUATION NOT STRAINED

The retail clerks, at 5 p. m. yesterday, took the expected step, and quit their places of employment. Though two propositions submitted to the clerks by the merchants were refused at the meeting of the local this morning, strong hopes remain that the differences will be adjusted before morning. It was predicted at noon today by both clerks and merchants that the clerks would be at work as usual tomorrow.

The session of the clerks' union this morning was a lengthy one, several matters pertaining to the strike, other than the hours for closing, coming up for consideration. ## KEEP THE GREAT WHEELS OF INDUSTRY MOVING

Advice of United States Senator Moses E. Clapp in a Logical and Eloquent Oration.

BUT ONE ROAD TO CONTINUED PROSPERITY

Abounding in eloquence, his every word carrying with it an irresistible effect, United States Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, with his earnest bearing and his forcible thoughts held the big audience at the opera house last night in rapt attention for fully 40 minutes. A more entertaining or better versed speaker on the political issues of the state and country never addressed an East Liverpool assemblage. His logical conclusions were easy to comprehend, and there were few present likely not to stand firmly by them, and incidentally the welfare of his country, on next Tuesday when he walks into the polling booth. The principles of true Republicanism were expounded in an enthusiastic manner and the walls rang with rousing applause. In part the eloquent man said:

"It certainly is a rare privilege for a man of Minnesota to be down here in this section of this great state of Ohio. And it is most assuredly a privilege more rare to be addressing the people of this section. In Minnesota we people take a great interest in the politics of this state. There are several reasons why we are so deeply interested. You have here two unique characters. Ten years ago we heard of Tom Johnson. He was then out for free trade. Tom was a progressive man, and he would not be satisfied to sit down and stop after he had clamored for that issue. It was not long after that until he was the principal performer in a side show. Soon after he had a show of his own, with Willie Bryan occupying the side tent. Willie, by the way, I believe, is not even in the side show now. A man so notorious as Tom has been, of course we would hear of. After his following in his big show we soon heard of him as the advocate of moderate socialism. This was something we could not understand, and I don't believe any man can understand it. If we were to give an explanation of it, I believe I would compare it with a middling good egg. Tom is an advocate of the single tax theory. I don't think there are any in this state who is afraid of his theory. There are none so foolish or unwise as to permit their homes to be confiscated by a single tax theory. They will not let their homes, which to them and theirs are their palaces, suffer by adopting Tom's single tax theory. They will not sanction a man who advocates moderate socialism. I truly

WHISTLING AND SMOKE WERE COMPLAINED OF

Wellsville Woman's Suit Against Railroad if Successful Would Have Stopped Business.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Terms of settlement have been agreed upon in the case of Lizzie Russell versus the Pennsylvania company, which as been set for trial on appeal in circuit court, and was passed for settlement. The action was brought against the defendant, operating the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, and had an injunction been granted, as prayed for in the petition, it would have practically brought business to a standstill in the company's yards in Wellsville.

The petition complained of unnecessary whistling, the smoke nuisance and the operation of track scales at the place where they were located. In common pleas court an injunction was allowed solely against the operation of the scales, but was refused as to the other matters complained of.

Judge P. M. Smith, of Wellsville, attorney for plaintiff, and Attorney J. R. Carey, representing the company, agreed upon a settlement yesterday whereby the injunction is to be so modified as to forbid the operation of the scales in the manner complained of.

It was found necessary to give the merchants the opportunity of considering the amended proposition, and for this purpose they will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The conference committees will meet an hour later, when it is expected, the settlement will be made.

As an evidence of the good feeling there was a strong sentiment manifested among the clerks this afternoon to declare a truce if the settlement was not effected Friday and return to work for Saturday so that the public will not be inconvenienced or the merchants lose the trade.

The petition says the defendant is about to transfer in return the chattel property of the insolvent concern to the Ohio Silica company, in furtherance of the plans to defraud creditors unless restrained. The plaintiff asks that the deed of conveyance to Gill be declared null and void, that Gill be restrained from making any further disposition of the property, and that the court shall appoint a trustee who shall recover the property and distribute it to the creditors. The Junata company is said to own three and one-quarter acres in East Liverpool.

An Insane Man With a Wife And Babe,
Asylum Offered No

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—A pitiable case developed in probate court yesterday when Walter Foddy, of Washington township, was taken before Judge Martin and adjudged insane. It was found he was not a resident of the state and not admissible to the asylum, which necessitated his removal to the county infirmary.

Foddy, who has been a photographer, came to Ohio from Allegheny last February, and has been living in Washington township near the home of his father-in-law, John S. Gilson. A siege of nervous prostration, from which he has just recovered, left him mentally unbalanced, and with an inclination to suicide. He has been wandering off recently, frequently at night, and is said to have walked to Wellsville and back Monday night. A few days ago he was found asleep on the railroad track in the vicinity of Salineville.

He told the examining physician that he realized his condition and wanted to go to some place where he might receive treatment and be restrained from actions he knows to be improper, yet cannot control. If Foddy has lost his residence in Pennsylvania it is doubtful if he would be eligible to an asylum in that state, but by remaining at the infirmary until next February, when he will have been in Ohio a year, he can be admitted to the asylum. and Recovered at Lisbon

Today.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—During the centennial celebration here last June, William Johnson, a Wayne township farmer, had his pocket picked of a wallet containing some money and valuable papers. Today the papers, including a note for $1,000, were found on the ledge in an outbuilding in the rear of J. K. Frew & Son's store, where the pickpockets had evidently examined their haul, retaining the money.

KEEP THE GREAT WHEELS OF INDUSTRY MOVING

Advice of United States Senator Moses E. Clapp in a Logical and Eloquent Oration.

BUT ONE ROAD TO CONTINUED PROSPERITY

Abounding in eloquence, his every word carrying with it an irresistible effect, United States Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, with his earnest bearing and his forcible thoughts held the big audience at the opera house last night in rapt attention for fully 40 minutes. A more entertaining or better versed speaker on the political issues of the state and country never addressed an East Liverpool assemblage. His logical conclusions were easy to comprehend, and there were few present likely not to stand firmly by them, and incidentally the welfare of his country, on next Tuesday when he walks into the polling booth. The principles of true Republicanism were expounded in an enthusiastic manner and the walls rang with rousing applause. In part the eloquent man said:

"It certainly is a rare privilege for a man of Minnesota to be down here in this section of this great state of Ohio. And it is most assuredly a privilege more rare to be addressing the people of this section. In Minnesota we people take a great interest in the politics of this state. There are several reasons why we are so deeply interested. You have here two unique characters. Ten years ago we

Wellsville Woman's Suit Against Railroad if Successful Would Have Stopped Business.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Terms of settlement have been agreed upon in the case of Lizzie Russell versus the Pennsylvania company, which as been set for trial on appeal in circuit court, and was passed for settlement. The action was brought against the defendant, operating the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, and had an injunction been granted, as prayed for in the petition, it would have practically brought business to a standstill in the company's yards in Wellsville.

The petition complained of unnecessary whistling, the smoke nuisance and the operation of track scales at the place where they were then located. In common pleas court an injunction was allowed solely against the operation of the scales, but was refused as to the other matters complained of.

Judge P. M. Smith, of Wellsville, attorney for plaintiff, and Attorney J. R. Carey, representing the company, agreed upon a settlement yesterday whereby the injunction is to be so modified as to forbid the operation of the scales in the manner complained of.

The plaintiff company says that the injunction is to be so modified as to forbid the operation of the scales in the manner complained of.

The petition says that the defendant company is about to transfer in return the chattel property of the involuntarily concerned Ohio Silica company, in furtherance of the plans to defraud creditors unless restrained. The plaintiff asks that the deed of conveyance to Gill be declared null and void, that Gill be restrained from making any further disposition of the property, and that the court shall appoint a trustee who shall recover the property and distribute it to the creditors. The Junia company is said to own three and one-quarter acres in East Liverpool.

NEW CASTLE NOTES.

New Castle, Pa., October 29.—(Special Correspondence)—Local No. 54 held its regular meeting Friday with a good attendance. Two transfers were received and three granted to brothers at Cameron, W. Va.

The trouble at the sanitary ware shop was settled satisfactorily, the firm agreeing to live up to the uniform list.

The trouble at the china company is in the hands of the price list committee, so that practically disposes of that matter. The firm is a little more easy about the trial at Pittsburg November 9 with the United States government. It is alleged this is not Mr. Henpe's first offense. Several years ago, when he was manager of the Ondas pottery at Syracuse, N. Y. he imported kilnmen to this country and was detected in the act and compelled to pay a fine. President Duffey—President Hughes and two kilnmen will be witnesses against the firm by request of Trades Assembly of New Castle, who are pushing the case.

Walter Smith, of Peoria, is spending a week with his brother, P. H. Smith. Any firm in need of a steady diggerman would do well to write him. He can operate any jigger. A letter addressed to McCleary ave. will reach him.

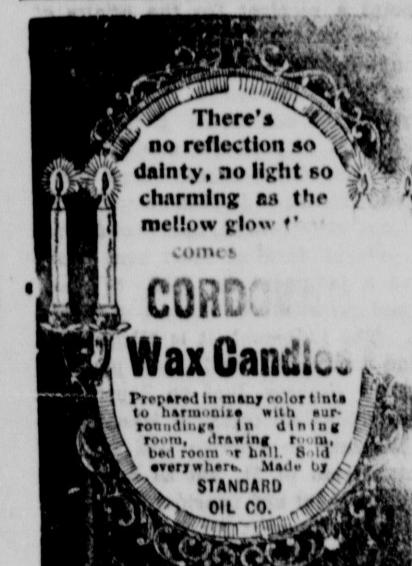

Kirk Henry is working out his notice, having accepted a sanitary ware pressing job at the factory.

The Shenango is still running full blast with lots of orders.

Morgan Winters, the popular pitcher of the Y. M. C. A. of East Liverpool, was a visitor here Sunday. He visited the Shenango shop and declares it a beauty. He stopped with his brother-in-law, John McCarron, and returned home in the evening.

One wonders who the two ladies were who tried to take a ride in the toy express wagon and when the owner appeared and left their sack of candy.

No Life, No Energy, No Ambition

Hanna, the monarch of Republican leaders, has formed his lines for the battle in such a manner that there is no power known that could overwhelm them. The object of the leaders of this nation is to develop free government. President Roosevelt is the strongest advocate of that principle we have today, and the only logical stand of the great masses is to place him again in that exalted position, for he stands for wise economic conditions.

"The conditions existing in the country today are much different than they were once. Fifty years ago all over the country a man was the master of his own calling. He was compelled to get his own material, by his own brain mould it into something useful and then he had to traverse the country to find a selling place. It is not so now. The great factories employing thousands of men are run on a very different scale. Each man has only his part to perform. When that is done, he is through. There is some one to provide the material and there is some one to sell it. Just as long as the factory runs, so long has he employment. But let us cease running, and where is this man? This man knows only part of one trade. Throw him out onto the cold, cruel world and he is perfectly helpless. You can all remember when men suffered from such a state of affairs when factory buildings were converted into soup houses and when there was suffering over the entire country.

That any one should allow this condition to go on to complete mental, physical or sexual ruin, is a positive crime when a cure is at hand. BAB-BEN Nerve Food—a medicine designed expressly for this condition, strengthens the blood and purifies the circulation and thus building up the various organs of life.—BAB-BEN Use this great remedy and the nervous, irritable, weak and trembling feelings will disappear. You will be strong and steady as steel; your ambition will be restored and perfect health and strength will take the place of weakness and debility. The testimony of thousands of men and women who have been afflicted with this helpless condition of long suffering tells the tale of this great remedy more effectively than words can portray. believe that the masses of people in this state will place the seal of condemnation on that man.

"A few years ago another unique figure appeared in Ohio politics. We heard of him through the channels of the press. We saw him cartooned by all of the leading papers of the country, and I beg leave to say, we did not think much of him from the pictures we saw. He was always represented to be a monster of a man, a giant, a being covered with long shaggy hair. At about that time we passed a curfew law in our state, which provided that all children go to their homes at 9 o'clock. We found that they would pay but little attention to the ringing of the curfew and were in a quandry as to how to get them to obey the law, until one day some man said to his child: 'If you don't get in the house and stay there we will get Hanna after you.' Well, he did come out there after us one day, and how surprised we were. He was not the man we had seen caricatured, but even then he was a big, robust sort of a fellow and though he was not covered with long, bear-like hair, he carried a big club in his hand and glad we were that he brought it with him, because with that persuader he clubbed the very life out of populism and free silver, two issues that we feared would ruin us forever. We found that he was broad in his views, wide in his judgement, calm and kind in his nature. In fact, we soon learned to love that man.

"We people of Minnesota are attracted to Ohio for another reason. While it is the fourth state in the Union in population, it stands foremost among the states as a modeler of the causes of the country. When all of the states are found wanting, old Ohio is at the front. There is no state in the country that has furnished in the last 30 years such an array of great men—men whose names will live forever in the annals recording political blues. It is the fact that such great men lived here and were backed by such an intelligent constituency that has made it so noticeable to us and so powerful in national issues.

"The coming election means much to this country, my fellow citizens. Do you think for a minute that Tom Johnson has the least idea that he will land the governorship of this Buckeye State? No, he would just as soon expect to get up in the morning and see the sun coming over the western hill. It is not for an election this year that he is working. He and his cohorts are working for the effect it will have on the great battle of 1904.

"Charles Sechrist, formerly foreman of the packing room at the C. C. Thompson pottery, has taken the foremanship of the packing department at the Smith-McNicol pottery, Wellsville. Harry Hilliard, a packer at the Dressen, had the misfortune yesterday to mash the index finger of his right hand between two castings. The injury will lay him off duty for a week or more.

"Three of the best men in the Goodwin pottery gave in their notices yesterday. They were G. W. Menough, of the kiln department; Thomas Shay, manager of the decorating kins, and E. V. Reed, boss oddman.

POTTERY MAKING. The Patterson Foundry & Machine company will prepare miniature machinery of nearly all the kinds employed in making ware and exhibit them at the fair. They will be complete fac similes and perfect in construction. The plans have not yet matured for their production but it is the determination of the company to build them.

A GOOD RECORD.

The Eastern Ohio Sewer Pipe works, an independent concern, has been operating steadily throughout the entire year, so far, and has done a most satisfactory business. The factory is one of the finest equipped in the Ohio valley. Two new additional kilns were finished last week. The big Wallace brick yard, burned about two months ago, have been almost entirely rebuilt, and will soon be in operation again.

POTTERY AT PADEN.

AMONG THE WORKERS.

The biscuit kiln hands at the Union pottery have a loaf for a day.

Two new pin runners have taken jobs at the Louthan Supply company.

The Sevres pottery now obtains its pin supply from the Louthan Supply company.

The shipments of ware by express to adjacent towns have been quite numerous of late.

S. P. French, of the Smith-McNicol pottery, Wellsville, has taken the position as foreman of the packing room at the Burford pottery.

There has been some trouble in the warehouse gang at the Sevres pottery and it is said there will be a change in that department shortly.

The potteries at Beaver Falls and New Brighton, Pa., are enjoying a fine trade, and have been running to their fullest capacity during the entire summer.

Jeff Childers, who is known as one of the best warehousemen in the country, has resumed his position at Laughlin No. 2 after an absence east of two months.

Charles Sechrist, formerly foreman of the packing room at the C. C. Thompson pottery, has taken the foremanship of the packing department at the Smith-McNicol pottery, Wellsville.

Hanna, the monarch of Republican leaders, has formed his lines for the battle in such a manner that there is no power known that could overwhelm them. The object of the leaders of this nation is to develop free government. President Roosevelt is the strongest advocate of that principle we have today, and the only logical stand of the great masses is to place him again in that exalted position, for he stands for wise economic conditions.

"The conditions existing in the country today are much different than they were once. Fifty years ago all over the country a man was the master of his own calling. He was compelled to get his own material, by his own brain mould it into something useful, and then he had to traverse the country to find a selling place. It is not so now. There is some one to provide the material and there is some one to sell it. Just as long as the factory runs, so long has he employment. But let us cease running. And where is this man? This man knows only part of one trade. Throw him out onto the cold, cruel world and he is perfectly helpless. You can all remember when men suffered from such a state of affairs when factory buildings were converted into soup houses and when there was suffering over the entire country.

Now, my dear people, what we want to do is to keep the great wheels of the factory going. Then we will have continued prosperity. There are many things to work against such conditions, but so far as legislation is concerned, the Republican party is the only party that can take a hand that will keep the great wheels revolving, and it is the only party that a loyal citizen will support. Those of us who do not realize what the result of another Democratic administration would mean, the sooner we learn the better. When we do learn, we will never again be destined to such an appalling fate.

"It is hard to keep our patience when we see a party of people working together to bring about such times as we have endured in the past. For a man to array himself with a party which is attempting to overthrow the principles laid down by William McKinley, seems unnatural to the spirit of this country, and it is hard to understand.

The present flourishing condition of the country can be attributed to but one thing—the protective tariff. Trusts, our enemies, are forever casting in our faces. We do not approve of them, of course, but trusts were not born in an hour and they cannot be overthrown in an hour. The policy of the country from 1892 to 1896 was a barrier to trusts. It killed all business and consequently warranted the formation of no trusts. You could prevent a child from growing up bad by strangling it in its cradle. Would that be wise?

"The object of the Republican party is not to deaden the business of the country in an attempt to down the trusts. We will not work on the principle of killing the child to save him from the possibility of growing up bad. The Republican party stands face to face with the great problem, instead of shrinking from it. We believe that American patriotism will arise and be able to cope with the trusts.

"This trust proposition is a stupendous one. To come face to face with it means something grave. The only true policy is to deal with it in a spirit of patriotism. It cannot be exterminated in a moment. We had better take our time than to precipitate the times of 1892 and 1896 on our heads.

The reciprocity measures advocated by the Republican party have had much to do with the prosperity of the country. William McKinley said: 'Do nothing that will impair the American market.' The enemy says that McKinley on that fatal day in Buffalo made the statement that it would be wise to place a tax on things that we cannot raise, place a tax on flour at the sacrifice of the iron producers. That great man never said such a thing. He advocated bringing about reciprocity terms by dropping the tariff that is not needed. McKinley enlightened more minds on the great issues of the day than any other man in the history of the country. To say anything to the contrary is nothing more nor less than slander.

In President Roosevelt we have another great minded and diplomatic man. He possesses American manhood, honesty and loyalty to his country. He is the man that should head this nation for another four years, and you people of Ohio have it in your power to determine his fate. The eyes of the entire country are turned on Ohio at this present time. The verdict of Ohio on next Tuesday will be taken as that of the Republican party in 1904. Let it be said, my dear friends, that the state of Ohio is not uncertain; let it be said that Ohio stands for lofty, manly men, that sort of personified by President Roosevelt.

NEW CASTLE NOTES.

New Castle, Pa., October 29.—(Special Correspondence)—Local No. 54 held its regular meeting Friday with a good attendance. Two transfers were received and three granted to brothers at Cameron, W. Va.

The trouble at the sanitary ware shop was settled satisfactorily, the firm agreeing to live up to the uniform list.

The trouble at the china company is in the hands of the price list committee, so that practically disposes of that matter. The firm is a little uneasy about the trial at Pittsburg November 9 with the United States government. It is alleged this is not Mr. Heape's first offense. Several years ago, when he was manager of the Onondaga pottery at Syracuse, N. Y. he imported kilnmen to this country and was detected in the act and compelled to pay a fine. President Duffy, ex-President Hughes and two kilnmen will be witnesses against the firm by request of Trade Assembly of New Castle, who are pushing the case.

Walter Smith, of Peoria, is here spending week with his brother, R. H. Smith. Any firm in need of a gossipy letter would do well to write him. He can operate any jiggle. A letter addressed to McCleary ave will reach him.

Kirk Henry is working out his no-tee, having accepted a sanitary ware pressing job at the Universal.

The Shenango is still running full blast with lots of orders.

Morgan Winters, the popular pitcher of the Y. M. C. A., of East Liverpool, was a visitor here Sunday. He visited the Shenango shop and declares it a beauty. He stopped with his brother-in-law, John McCarron, and returned home in the evening.

One wonders who the two ladies were who tried to take a ride in the toy express wagon and when the owner appeared and left their sack of candy.

EXHIBIT FOR WORLD'S FAIR.

East Liverpool will be most practically represented at the St. Louis World's fair next year, which will undoubtedly prove a big and striking advertisement of its well known industry.

These are common expressions now—days and the finger posts that point with unerring accuracy to the nervous system. Its vitality by overwork, worry or excess of some kind.

That any one should allow this condition to go on to complete mental, physical or sexual ruin, as many do, is a pity if neglected.

It is a positive crime when a cure is at hand. BAR-BEN, Nervy Food—a medicine designed expressly for this purpose. It is a medicine that cures to stay cured by increasing the circulation, strengthening the kidneys and purifying and reinvigorating the blood.

Use this great remedy and the nervous, irritable and trembling feelings will disappear. Your sleep will be natural, calm and restful. You will wake mornings feeling strong and vigorous instead of tired. All gloomy depression and sense of anxiety and fear will be gone. You will become strong and steady as steel; your ambition will be restored and perfect health and strength will take the place of weakness and debility. The testimony of thousands of men and women suffering tells its own story of this great remedy more effectively than words can portray.

If you doubt write for free sample. All druggists or mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

KEEP THE GREAT WHEELS OF INDUSTRY MOVING

believe that the masses of people in this state will place the seal of condemnation on that man.

A few years ago another unique figure appeared in Ohio politics. We heard of him through the channels of the press. We saw him cartooned by all of the leading papers of the country, and I beg leave to say, we did not think much of him from the pictures we saw. He was always represented to be a monster of a man, a giant, being covered with long shaggy hair. At about that time we passed a curfew law in our state, which provided that all children go to their homes at 9 o'clock. We found that they would pay but little attention to the ringing of the curfew and were in a quandry as to how to get them to obey the law, until one day some man said to his child: "If you don't get in the house and stay there we will get Hanna after you." Well, he did come out there after us one day, and how surprised we were. He was not the man we had seen caricatured, but even then he was a big, robust sort of a fellow and though he was not covered with long, bear-like hair, he carried a big club in his hand, and glad we were that he brought it with him, because with that persuader he clubbed the very life out of populism and free silver, two issues that we feared would ruin us forever. We found that he was broad in his views, wide in his judgment, calm and kind in his nature. In fact, we soon learned to love that man.

"The present flourishing condition of the country can be attributed to but one thing—the protective tariff. Trusts, our enemies, are forever casting in our faces. We do not approve of them, of course, but trusts were not born in an hour and they cannot be overthrown in an hour. The policy of the country from 1892 to 1896 was a barrier to trusts. It killed all business and consequently warranted the formation of no trusts. You could prevent a child from growing up bad by strangling it in its cradle. Would that be wise?

"The object of the Republican party is not to deaden the business of the country in an attempt to down the trusts. We will not work on the principle of killing the child to save him from the possibility of growing up bad. The Republican party stands face to face with the great problem, instead of shrinking from it. We believe that American patriotism will arise and be able to cope with the trusts.

"This trust proposition is a stupendous one. To come face to face with it means something grave. The only true policy is to deal with it in a spirit of patriotism. It cannot be exterminated in a moment. We had better take our time than to precipitate the times of 1892 and 1896 on our heads.

"The reciprocity measures advocated by the Republican party have had much to do with the prosperity of the country. William McKinley said: 'Do nothing that will impair the American market.' The enemy says that McKinley on that fatal day in Buffalo made the statement that it would be wise to place a tax on things that we cannot raise, place a tax on flour at the sacrifice of the iron producers. That great man never said such a thing.

"He advocated bringing about reciprocity terms by dropping the tariff that is not needed. McKinley enlightened more minds on the great issues of the day than any other man in the history of the country. To say anything to the contrary is nothing more nor less than slander.

"The coming election means much to this country, my fellow citizens. Do you think for a minute that Tom Johnson has the least idea that he will land the governorship of this Buckeye State? No, he would just as soon expect to get up in the morning and see the sun coming over the western hill. It is not for an election this year that he is working. He and his cohorts are working for the effect it will have on the great battle of 1904.

"We cannot afford to stand idly by when we know the hopes of our enemy. It would not be policy. We can keep them from gaining ground, and we must do it. They have been falling back for these many years and if we only do our duty on next Tuesday they will be handed another blow that will have a telling effect, you may be assured. What will be the effect of this election? There is no power on the wide universe that could keep Teddy Roosevelt from landing the nomination for president. Marcus A.

Jeff Childers, who is known as one of the best warehousemen in the country, has resumed his position at Laughlin No. 2 after an absence east of two months.

Charles Sechrist, formerly foreman of the packing room at the C. C. Thompson pottery, has taken the foremanship of the packing department at the Smith-McNicol pottery, Wellsville. Harry Hilliard, a packer at the Dresden, had the misfortune yesterday to smash the index finger of his right hand between two casts. The injury will lay him off duty for a week or more.

Three of the best men in the Goodwin pottery gave in their notices yesterday. They were G. W. Menough, of the kiln department; Thomas Shay, manager of the decorating kilns, and E. V. Reed, boss oddman.

Hanna, the monarch of Republican leaders, has formed his lines for the battle in such a manner that there is no power known that could overwhelm them. The object of the leaders of this nation is to develop free government. President Roosevelt is the strongest advocate of that principle we have today, and the only logical stand of the great masses is to place him again in that exalted position, for he stands for wise economic conditions.

"The conditions existing in the country today are much different than they were once. Fifty years ago all over the country a man was the master of his own calling. He was compelled to get his own material, by his own brain mould it into something useful and then he had to traverse the country to find a selling place. It is not so now. The great factories employing thousands of men are run on a very different scale. Each man has only his part to perform. When that is done, he is through. There is some one to provide the material and there is some one to sell it. Just as long as the factory runs, so long has no employment. But let us cease running, and where is this man? This man knows only part of one trade. Throw him out onto the cold, cruel world and he is perfectly helpless. You can all remember when men suffered from such a state of affairs when factory buildings were converted into soup houses and when there was suffering over the entire country.

Now, my dear people, what we want to do is to keep the great wheels of the factory going. Then we will have continued prosperity. There are many things to work against such conditions, but so far as legislation is concerned, the Republican party is the only party that can take a hand that will keep the great wheels revolving, and it is the only party that a loyal citizen will support. Those of us who do not realize what the result of another Democratic administration would mean, the sooner we learn the better. When we do learn, we will never again be destined to such an appalling fate.

"It is hard to keep our patience when we see a party of people working together to bring about such times as we have endured in the past. For a man to array himself with a party which is attempting to overthrow the principles laid down by William McKinley, seems unnatural to the spirit of this country, and it is hard to understand.

The present flourishing condition of the country can be attributed to but one thing—the protective tariff. Trusts, our enemies, are forever casting in our faces. We do not approve of them, of course, but trusts were not born in an hour and they cannot be overthrown in an hour. The policy of the country from 1892 to 1896 was a barrier to trusts. It killed all business and consequently warranted the formation of no trusts. You could prevent a child from growing up bad by strangling it in its cradle. Would that be wise?

Go Prepare.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you the end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellview, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Pilo, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result.

The News Review has no desire to pose as an advocate of either side in the unfortunate controversy which has arisen between the retail clerks union and their employers. It hopes that the matter will be speedily and amicably settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. It would remind the parties to the dispute, however, that the question of closing hours is one of deep interest to the public of the city as well as to the merchants and clerks. It is also of vital importance to the business welfare of the city. If business houses are to close at 5 o'clock—and the merchants dispute the assertion of the clerks that that is the customary hour for closing in other cities and towns in this vicinity—what chance has a man or woman employed in a pottery to do trading without quitting work to do so? The one hour between 5 and 6 is often worth as much to the merchant for the trade it brings as all the rest of the day. Nobody interested in the welfare and prosperity of this city wants to see trade driven out of town. Such is likely to be the result if customers find the stores closed at the hour when they most want to patronize them. For this reason the clerks should reflect and go slow in standing up for a demand which will be injurious to their interests and to the interests of the whole city.

There are intimations that a crusade is to be inaugurated in East Liverpool against those who sell cigarettes to boys. In Lisbon a similar movement has progressed so far that offending dealers have been indicted by the grand jury, tried and fined. This is as it should be. If there be any law on the statute books which ought to be rigorously enforced it is the anti-cigarette law. Nine times out of ten the child that cultivates the cigarette smoking habit becomes mentally and physically stunted and grows up to amount to nothing. In athletics the cigarette smoker has no show of winning success; his associates understand the fact and refuse him a place on their base ball teams and their foot ball elevens. It is a fact becoming a settled principle that business men give cigarette-using boys no employment. If, in spite of these facts, the boy will persist in a habit calculated to make himself useless to the world and incapable of advancing except backward, it is surely time for the state, which has an interest in the future of the rising generation, to take a hand in suppressing an evil that is fast assuming alarming proportions.

Senator Clapp is right; there were no trusts formed from 1892 to 1896. It was not a period in which new business ventures, either small or large, were launched. He aptly compared the Democratic method of killing off trusts to that of strangling a child in its cradle, that it may by no possibility become bad. The method is effectual, but common sense as well as humanity forbids its adoption. As another orator has said, one can easily destroy the weevils in a wheat field by starting a prairie fire; but the destruction does not stop until the good wheat, as well as the bad, has all been swept away. Paralyzation of industries followed Democratic success in 1892. Just as certainly it would follow Democratic success next year. The people of Ohio are not going to vote now in a manner that will afford the enemy either aid or comfort in the impending great struggle of 1904.

The Republican rally of last evening fulfilled expectations. It was a rousing and enthusiastic meeting. Logical and eloquent speeches were delivered by Senator Clapp and District Attorney Sullivan. They were received in a manner which clearly indicates that East Liverpool, which owes its prosperity mainly to Republican policies, has no intention of deserting its standard and voting for policies and principles that, if put into effect, would be unkind to their interests and to the interests of all the people. The addresses, which abound in logical and convincing arguments, are published at length in this issue of the News Review and will repay careful perusal, especially by doubtful voters, if any such exist in Columbiana county.

Hallowe'en fun is eminently proper, and nobody, old or young, is going to object to it, so long as it is harmless. But Hallowe'en mischief is quite another thing, and Major Weaver will earn the thanks of every citizen if he carries out his announced purpose of sternly suppressing it. There has been too much of it in the past. The boys and girls can have a better time and easier consciences if they are suffered to damage nobody's property in their fun-making.

The hunting season has progressed far enough so that items concerning men who were shot in mistake for game are unpleasantly common.

The Johnson orators are fond of talking about Jeffersonian Democracy, but Jefferson, if alive, would never recognize their brand of it.

Does any Republican desire to vote in a way that will make Tom Johnson a greater political nuisance than he is at present?

Business depression in England is making protectionist converts faster than Joseph Chamberlain's oratory.

Hanna and Herrick will have reason to be proud of East Liverpool when the votes are counted.

Everybody interested in politics is hoping that the Indian summer will continue until after election.

OIL MEN'S RIGHTS ARE CONCERNED

An Important Test Case Arises From a Dispute in This County.

DAMAGE BY SALT WATER

Alleged By the Salem Iron Company Against the Men Operating Wells Near Columbiana—Defendants File a Strong Answer.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special.)—The defendants in the case of the Salem Iron company, of Leetonia, vs. H. H. Hyland, J. Miller Doolittle, D. H. McCoy, Charles Gongaware, W. H. McCoy, Harry H. Hyland, Jr., and Charles Wagner, in which the plaintiff has, by a temporary injunction, stopped the pumping of oil on the Gongware farm near Columbiana, have filed a lengthy answer in court here to the petition of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs secured the temporary restraining order upon the representation that the large quantities of salt water turned from the oil well into Cherry Fork creek, from which stream the Salem Iron company derives its water supply about three miles from the oil well was injuring its boilers and machinery by leaving deposits of a saline sediment.

The answer was filed by the defendants' attorneys, Charles D. Dickinson, of Leetonia, and Lev McQuiston and George J. Wolf, of Butler, Pa. In the allegation included in the plaintiff's petition it is set forth that the water for the plant had been obtained from Cherry Fork creek ever since the furnace was built; that the use of the stream does not interfere with the rights of the property owners below it; that the oil operators were polluting the water of Cherry Fork by throwing into a branch of it large quantities of extremely salty water; that only a small showing of oil was obtained from the two wells pumped; that by reason of its impregnation with salt water, the water of the stream was rendered unfit for domestic purposes or the use of animals; that in times of flood it destroyed vegetation on contiguous pasture land; that the company has no other available water supply, and that the use of the oil operators are making of the stream is injurious to all owners of land along its course.

To each of these allegations, the defendants enter a denial and allege that the plaintiff company has constructed a dam across Cherry Fork near the furnace for use in securing its water supply. It is intimated that this dam is responsible for much of the trouble arising from the water supply, the defendants alleging that the dam causes the dead water to stand in the stream for a long distance above, backing it up into Green creek, which empties into Cherry Fork some distance above the furnace. The defendants allege that all the filth and impurities from the village of Leetonia, which is situated on higher ground, finds their way into this dam, not only by natural courses, but through the village sewer, and that these impurities had before the oil operations commenced, rendered the water of the dam unfit for domestic use. The defendants further say that refuse from the Cherry Valley glass furnace, a short distance above, also collects in the dam.

In urging that the injunction be dissolved and that operations in the oil field be permitted to proceed, the defendants speak of the production of petroleum as one of the leading industries of Ohio, the last annual output aggregating 22,000,000 barrels, and that this great industry, employing thousands of people, is invariably accompanied by large quantities of salt water. The defendants say their oil leases in Fairfield township aggregate 750 acres and that they have already expended a large amount of time, money and labor in developing the field, which now promises a remunerative production if they are permitted to proceed with their operation.

The defendants say the water from the oil well follows the natural water course and that the salt water and the oil are so mingled that they have to be pumped to the surface together. To require them to drain off this salt water by some other means would involve so great an expense, they say, as to render unprofitable any further operation or development of the territory.

The defendants allege that the plaintiffs can secure a water supply from another source. The two wells were producing about 25 barrels a day when the injunction went into effect, and it is alleged that the flow of salt water was then steadily decreasing, while the flow of oil was increasing. The defendants conclude their answer by asking that the plaintiffs' petition be follow the lead of the man who sits in front of his tumble-down cabin and plays the fiddle all day long without knowing or caring what becomes of the nation. If I were a man of that kind I would vote the Democratic ticket. Republican politics puts into the brain of man that mental activity which breeds great deeds and gigantic achievements.

"They say that Cleveland is the greatest town for injunctions in the world. The Democratic party, with Tom Johnson of the injunction city at its head, is asking the voters of Ohio to issue a restraining order on next Tuesday at the polls which will silence the wheels of industry, stop the wheels of traffic everywhere. Will you let it? They are asking you to sit upon a court at the ballot box that will grant a restraining order that will stop our wonderful prosperity. That is what it will mean if you fail to elect a legislature favorable to Marcus A. Hanna for United States senator. That is what it will mean if you fail to place Myron T. Herrick in the governor's station this fall. Is that an exaggeration? Think what it will mean. If Herrick is defeated and the Democrats gain control of the legislature it will mean that Senator Hanna will not be returned to the United States senate. The result will have a widespread effect. It will mean Democratic control in both houses and it is hard to tell what that will mean to your town. It will place your interests in the hands of men who believe in a tariff only for revenue. They will do as they did before. There is not the shadow of a doubt but that the result in Ohio will affect the congressional situation in a year from now.

"You cannot fail to take these things into consideration when you go to the polls next Tuesday. You must see that it is not so much for the personality of the candidates as the principles they represent. You will not look at the personal character of Senator Hanna, Myron T. Herrick and Senator Harding, but will think of the best interests of your home. You will vote for or against yourself next Tuesday.

"Frankly, my friends, had the Democratic party gone into power when the Republicans did, and had it brought good times and prosperity as the Republicans have, I would vote the Democratic ticket next Tuesday. I would not consider that I was a patriotic citizen if I did not. If elected Myron T. Herrick will continue the wise policy of Governor Nash, and Marcus A. Hanna, the great political captain of the age, will look after the welfare of the nation at Washington.

"The condition in Ohio today is most peculiar. There is nothing against the administrations of George K. Nash, of Asa S. Bushnell, of William McKinley during the past 12 years. There is not a Democrat in Ohio who has raised a single criticism of these men. There has been great prosperity in Ohio these past few years. Three millions of dollars have been taken from the shoulders of the renters and house owners and placed upon the shoulders of corporations of the state. By the wise legislation of Governor Nash and his associates $2,000,000 of indebtedness has been wiped out. Several millions have been expended in improvements to our great public institutions. The surplus foots up over $3,000,000, and there is not a cent of indebtedness against the state of Ohio today.

DAMAGE BY SALT WATER

Alleged By the Salem Iron Company Against the Men Operating Wells Near Columbiana—Defendants File a Strong Answer.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—

The defendants in the case of the Salem Iron company, of Leetonia, vs.

H. H. Hyland, J. Miller Doolittle, D.

H. McCoy, Charles Gongaware, W. H.

McCoy, Harry H. Hyland, Jr., and

Charles Wagner, in which the plaintiff has, by a temporary injunction, stopped the pumping of oil on the Gongaware farm near Columbiana, have filed a lengthy answer in court here to the petition of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs secured the temporary restraining order upon the representation that the large quantities of salt water turned from the oil well into Cherry Fork creek, from which stream the Salem

Iron company derives its water supply about three miles from the oil well

was injuring its boilers and machinery

by leaving deposits of a saline sediment.

The answer was filed by the defendants' attorneys, Charles D. Dickinson, of Leetonia, and Lev McQuiston and George J. Wolf, of Butler, Pa. In the allegation included in the plaintiff's petition it is set forth that the water for the plant had been obtained from Cherry Fork creek ever since the furnace was built; that the use of the stream does not interfere with the rights of the property owners below it; that the oil operators were polluting the water of Cherry Fork by throwing into a branch of it large quantities of extremely salty water; that only a small showing of oil was obtained from the two wells pumped; that by reason of its impregnation with salt water, the water of the stream was rendered unfit for domestic purposes or the use of animals; that in times of flood it destroyed vegetation on contiguous pasture land; that the company has no other available water supply, and that the use of the oil operators are making of the stream is injurious to all owners of land along its course.

The News Review has no desire to pose as an advocate of either side in the unfortunate controversy which has arisen between the retail clerks' union and their employers. It hopes that the matter will be speedily and amicably settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. It would remind the parties to the dispute, however, that the question of closing hours is one of deep interest to the public of the city as well as to the merchants and clerks. It is also of vital importance to the business welfare of the city. If business houses are to close at 5 o'clock—and the merchants dispute the assertion of the clerks that that is the customary hour for closing in other cities and towns in this vicinity—what chance has a man or woman employed in a pottery to do trading with out quitting work to do so? The one hour between 5 and 6 is often worth as much to the merchant for the trade it brings as all the rest of the day. Nobody interested in the welfare and prosperity of this city wants to see trade driven out of town. Such is likely to be the result if customers find the stores closed at the hour when they most want to patronize them. For this reason the clerks should reflect and go slow in standing up for a demand which will be injurious to their interests and to the interests of the whole city.

There are intimations that a crusade is to be inaugurated in East Liverpool against those who sell cigarettes to boys. In Lisbon a similar movement has progressed so far that offending dealers have been indicted by the grand jury, tried and fined. This is as it should be. If there be any law on the statute books which ought to be rigorously enforced it is the anti-cigarette law. Nine times out of ten the child that cultivates the cigarette smoking habit becomes mentally and physically stunted and grows up to amount to nothing. In athletics the cigarette smoker has no show of winning success; his associates understand the fact and refuse him a place on their base ball teams and their foot ball elevens. It is a fact becoming a settled principle that business men give cigarette-using boys no employment. If, in spite of these facts, the boy will persist in a habit calculated to make himself useless to the world and incapable of advancing except backward, it is surely time for the state, which has an interest in the future of the rising generation, to take a hand in suppressing an evil that is fast assuming alarming proportions.

WORK MOVING ON

The Pit for the New Pumping Station
Likely to Be Finished
Soon.

After much delay over a disagreement on wages and other difficulties, work has been resumed by the Duquesne Engineering company of Pittsburgh on the pump pit at the site of the new Wellsville water works pumping station, and unless further delayed by some unforeseen difficulty, this part of the big contract of the company will be completed before cold weather sets in.

The laborers employed on this job struck for $2 a day and wanted rubber boots furnished them with which to work in the mud and water at the bottom of the pit. The men were out for several days, but a compromise was effected and the men were furnished the rubber boots and are now being paid at the rate of $1.75 per day, with which they are satisfied.

This contract met with a serious delay when the pump pit caved in a few weeks ago at a time when it was nearly completed, and the company thereby lost all of the profit they hoped to make on the job, but the work is now moving along rapidly and every precaution is being taken to prevent the pit from again caving in.

Divorce Suit Story Untrue.

In the account of the divorce case of Sallie Pearl Rousley at Steubenville, against her husband, in the Wellsville column a few days ago, the statement, copied from a Steubenville paper, was made that the defendant had been intimate with Miss Mattie Flowers. Miss Flowers is a respectable girl, and resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Flowers, at the corner of Nineteenth and Chester streets, Wellsville. She is employed at the United States pottery and has always had an excellent reputation. Her father is engineer at the plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company, in the East End, East Liverpool.

OLD AND NEW WAY

Hyomei the Latest Scientific Discovery for the Cure of Catarrh.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were nauseating drugs and worthless tonics. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of the throat and head a balsamic air that goes to the minutest cells, effectually killing all germs and microbes of catarrh. It enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restores health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been cured by Hyomei.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Will Reed has so much faith in Hyomei that he sells every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomei.

ACTING OFFICERS FOR REPUBLICAN CLUB

Two Well Known Men Serving Until Permanent Organization Can Be Effectuated.

The announcement of the organization of a Republican club in Chester has aroused a great deal of interest among the voters, particularly among the younger ones. Those who have taken the matter in hand have had no trouble at all in enrolling the names of scores of voters, many being secured by a canvass made last night. The employees of the tin mill are particularly interested.

Until the meeting is called for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization, Harry G. Herbert will act as president and Griff Edwards will act as secretary's work. Both are well known and highly respected citizens of Chester and are devoting considerable of their time to the work. Their Republicanism is of the rock-ribbed, time-tried and fire-tested sort and it can be depended upon that their work will be for the best interests of the party in Chester.

RETAINING WALL FELL

Loss of Several Hundred Dollars Caused By a Mishap at the Murray Building.

A section of the brick retaining wall, under construction at the Fifth avenue property of James Murray, fell this morning shortly after 8 o'clock, causing a loss of several hundred dollars. Fortunately, at the moment when the wall gave way the workmen were on another part of the premises. Had the accident occurred at another time of the day several lives would have been lost.

The fallen section was about 50 feet in length and from 12 to 15 feet high. Apparently the width, about 18 inches, was substantial enough to answer the purpose, but this morning when the workmen began to fill in with dirt behind it, it crumbled and fell.

A short time after the accident a force of men was put to work cleaning the bricks and the wall will be rebuilt at once.

Broken Rigging Causes Delay.

Ed. Stewart, the well known oil well man, returned to Chester last night from an oil operation he is conducting near Colliers. He has been doing considerable drilling there but yesterday had the misfortune to break a part of the rigging and was compelled to come to Chester to order the necessary repairs. The work will be delayed for several days.

Two Cases Tomorrow.

Justice Johnston has two very important cases on his docket for tomorrow morning, one being set for 10 and the other for 11 o'clock. Both are suits for unlawful retainer and C. A. Smith is the plaintiff. The plaintiff alleges that the property was sold to the defendants on the installment plan and that they have failed to meet the payments.

Rev. Mr. Culbertson to Preach.

CHINAMAN SCALDED

Upset a Boiler of Hot Water in His Laundry With Serious Results.

Sam Young, a Chinese laundryman, employed at the laundry of his brother, Frank Young, on Main street, near Third street, was the victim of a serious accident yesterday noon, which came near resulting in his death.

Young was endeavoring to move a boiler of scalding water on a stove in the rear of the laundry and in some unknown manner brought the boiler over on top of him, the scalding water pouring out on his right arm and down the right side of his body.

He yelled for help and was at once assisted in the laundry. Dr. Hutcheson was at once called and upon examination found that the arm was seriously scalded as well as his side. He dressed the wounds carefully. Young is suffering continuous pain and will be laid up for several weeks. It is believed that had he poured the scalding water directly upon his body the result might have proved fatal.

Cut While Lying Asleep.

J. C. Leonard, of Cleveland, a brakeman on one of the C. & P. freight crews, was the victim of a peculiar accident early this morning at Salineville, which resulted in a serious cut on his head. Leonard was lying on a cot in the caboose of his train when an engine backed into the rear with such force that Leonard's head was jammed against one of the windows. The window was broken and Leonard had a gash cut in his head by the broken glass. Leonard was removed to his boarding house at Patterson's restaurant and Dr. Noble called.

Will Drill Deeper.

George A. Frink, of this city, who owns valuable oil land in the Hammondsfield field near Hammondsfield, stated yesterday that work would be started at once on well No. 2 to drill into the Berea sand. This well is a good producer in the salt sand and has been yielding from 10 to 15 barrels a day, but Mr. Frink thinks that it will prove a much better producer if drilled deeper and into the Berea. It will require but a few days to do this work. Preparations are being made to drill other wells on Mr. Frink's farm soon.

A special meeting of the board of public safety will be held this evening in the private office of Mayor Fogo, for the purpose of adopting several new rules which have been in course of preparation for some time. The Plant at Ambridge a Mammoth One and the Town Growing Rapidly.

Ambridge, the new town located above Economy, Pa., is rapidly building up, says a recent visitor. Part of the American Bridge company's plant is completed and running. It will take another year to complete the entire structure as the buildings are mammoth in proportion, and will cover the same space of ground as 20 potteries. A number of business ventures, including different lines of merchandising, are located. Four lumber yards are now in operation.

The population is now between 500 and 600, and homes for 2,000 people are now required, but owing to the high rate for building material, people are loath to build. Rents are very high, but the new town is constantly growing.

WORK MOVING ON

The Pit for the New Pumping Station
Likely to Be Finished
Soon.

After much delay over a disagreement on wages and other difficulties, work has been resumed by the Duquesne Engineering company of Pittsburgh on the pump pit at the site of the new Wellsville water works pumping station, and unless further delayed by some unforeseen difficulty, this part of the big contract of the company will be completed before cold weather sets in.

The laborers employed on this job struck for $2 a day and wanted rubber boots furnished them with which to work in the mud and water at the bottom of the pit. The men were out several days, but a compromise was effected and the men were furnished the rubber boots and are now being paid at the rate of $1.75 per day, with which they are satisfied.

This contract met with a serious delay when the pump pit caved in a few weeks ago at a time when it was nearly completed, and the company thereby lost all of the profit they hoped to make on the job, but the work is now moving along rapidly and every precaution is being taken to prevent the pit from again caving in.

Divorce Suit Story Untrue.

In the account of the divorce case of Sallie Pearl Rouksley at Steubenville, against her husband, in the Wellsville column a few days ago, the statement, copied from a Steubenville paper, was made that the defendant had been intimate with Miss Mattie Flowers. Miss Flowers is a respectable girl, and resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Flowers, at the corner of Nineteenth and Chestnut streets, Wellsville. She is employed at the United States pottery and has always had an excellent reputation. Her father is engineer at the plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company, in the East End, East Liverpool.

OLD AND NEW WAY

Hyomei the Latest Scientific Discovery for the Cure of Catarrh.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were nauseating drugs and worthless tonics. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of the throat and head a balsamic air that goes to the minute cells, effectively killing all germs and microbes of catarrh. It enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restores health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been cured by Hyomei.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Will Reed has so much faith in Hyomei that he sells every package under a positive guarantee to refund his money if it does not cure.

Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomei.

Will Drill Deeper.

George A. Frink, of this city, who owns valuable oil land in the Hammondsfield field near Hammondsville, stated yesterday that work would be started at once on well No. 2 to drill into the Berea sand. This well is a good producer in the salt sand and has been yielding from 10 to 15 barrels a day, but Mr. Frink thinks that it will prove a much better producer if drilled deeper and into the Berea. It will require but a few days to do this work. Preparations are being made to drill other wells on Mr. Frink's farm soon.

ACTING OFFICERS FOR REPUBLICAN CLUB

Two Well Known Men Serving Until Permanent Organization Can Be Elected.

Health Officer's Report.

The announcement of the organization of a Republican club in Chester has aroused a great deal of interest among the voters, particularly among the younger ones. Those who have taken the matter in hand have had no trouble at all in enrolling the names of scores of voters, many being secured by a canvass made last night. The employees of the tin mill are particularly interested.

Until the meeting is called for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization, Harry G. Herbert will act as president and Griff. Edwards will do the secretary's work. Both are well known and highly respected citizens of Chester and are devoting considerable of their time to the work. Their Republicanism is of the rock-ribbed, time-tried and fire-tested sort and it can be depended upon that their work will be for the best interests of the party in Chester.

RETAINING WALL FELL

Loss of Several Hundred Dollars Caused By a Mishap at the Murray Building.

A section of the brick retaining wall, under construction at the Fifth avenue property of James Murray, fell this morning shortly after 8 o'clock, causing a loss of several hundred dollars. Fortunately, at the moment when the wall gave way the workmen were on another part of the premises. Had the accident occurred at another time of the day several lives would have been lost.

The fallen section was about 50 feet in length and from 12 to 15 feet high.

Apparently the width, about 18 inches, was substantial enough to answer the purpose, but this morning when the workmen began to fill in dirt behind it, it crumbled and fell.

A short time after the accident a force of men was put to work cleaning the bricks and the wall will be rebuilt at once.

Broken Rigging Causes Delay.

Ed. Stewart, the well known oil well man, returned to Chester last night from an oil operation he is conducting near Colliers. He has been doing considerable drilling there but yesterday had the misfortune to break a part of the rigging and was compelled to come to Chester to order the necessary repairs. The work will be delayed for several days.

Cleveland, Oct. 29.—The police are looking up the mysterious disappearance of Sidney Percy, of Cape Vincent, N. Y., mate of the steamer Nicaragua who disappeared while on his way to his boat last Friday. Percy and his son Ford, wheelmen of the same vessel, were going down Cross street on their way to the Nicaragua when they separated for a minute or two. When the son returned to where he left his father he could not find him, nor has any trace of the man been found since. The police believe Percy was snatched, robbed and the body probably done away with, as the locality where the man was in is the vicinity of the water and to throw the body into it would be an easy manner of disposal.

Wabash Gets Entrance.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 29.—The Wabash railroad is said to have secured an entrance into the city. The large properties owned by the Andrews and Hitchcock estates, in the east end of the city, are said to have been purchased by the Lake Erie, Youngstown & Southern company, supposed to be owned by Henry Wick, of this city. The land is the key to the entrance to Youngstown on the east and the price paid for it is said to be $30,000. ## REALM OF SPORTS BOWLING LEAGUE A POSSIBILITY

Talk of Organizing Both a Woman's Club And a Gentlemen's League.

Interest in bowling is increasing. There is strong talk of organizing a league of about eight teams, the members to consist of the enthusiasts of both young and old. There are many expert bowlers in the city and they will be divided among those who are not so experienced and by that means all of the teams will be on an equal basis.

As is well known there are already several teams, but the number is not sufficient to keep enthusiasm when it generally arises in the winter season.

After the league is formed the winning team will be open for a challenge from all nearby towns. Lisbon, Sebring, Wellsville, Beaver Falls, Rochester and others have crack teams and an endeavor will be made to arrange dates with all of them.

There is also talk of organizing a ladies' bowling team, and it is conceded that such an organization will incite more interest than was ever shown. In this city there are quite a number of excellent lady bowlers and they take to the game like a cat to sweet milk.

Joe McGinnity, the New York National's pitcher, gets a $1,000 increase in salary and will stay with the club.

CAN'T KEEP IT UP

Can't Deceive East Liverpool People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place, but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Caroline White, of 225 Railroad street, East End, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found great relief from the treatment, although I am 70 years of age, and had about given up all hope of ever being helped. I took medicine and my back ached just the same, grew stiff and lame when sitting long or when lying in bed and sharp twinges of pain and other symptoms convinced me my kidneys were out of order. Always on the lookout for anything that might bring relief, when I heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. After using that for a short time I could plainly notice the good effects they were causing. I continued some time longer and gradually but surely improved. I found Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy and advise others to try them, feeling confident if they do so they will have no cause to regret it."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

"IMPOSSIBLE," for you to enjoy the happiness of motherhood," says the doctor. Sometimes he qualifies the statement, and says: "Impossible without an operation." Yet both these "impossibilities" have been made possible by the use of Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription. Many times the hindrances to motherhood are to be found in the womanly diseases or weaknesses, which are perfectly and permanently cured by "Favorable Prescription."

This great medicine for women cures irregular and dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I wish to add my testimony to hundreds of others as to the value of Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Ida M. De Ford of Latona, Hubbard Co., Minn. "I had a woman with a great number of physicians—some specialists, but twice been in a hospital for treatment. My case has been regarded as a hopeless one, and they knew not what the trouble was. Heart was bad, stomach was bad, kidneys were bad, and nearly every ailment a woman could have. I took many a bottle of various medicines without relief. Then I tried Favorable Prescription, and ten months afterward I gave birth to a ten-pound boy. All physician had stated as a fact that I never could bear a child, both the baby and myself were strong, and I got along splendidly—thanks to your medicine."

by railroads has led to a search of the records. In the records of the supreme court of Ohio at Columbus, in the case of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railway vs. Frank Schaffer, it is found the following:

"From page 14 of the Reply Brief for Plaintiff in Error, by John H. Clarke, general solicitor for the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad company, plaintiff in error:

"With such an array of authority it seems incontestable that the contract or conspiracy alleged to have been entered into by the defendant Nickel Plate company, even if proved to have been made, was a perfect lawful transaction. If the allegation of plaintiff's second amended petition be construed by this court as the supreme court of Illinois construed precisely similar ones, the effect of the petition is to charge that the defendant company conspired with other companies to agree that none of them would employ any man except he brought with him when applying for employment his service record. This surely was not only a lawful thing to do, but highly commendable.

Salineville, October 29.—(Special)

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Dr. James Crosser when Rev. Mr. Perezog performed the ceremony uniting for life Miss Belli E. Crosser and Dr. C. E. Vasey. Miss Bessie Thompson, of Lisbon, presided at the piano. The bride is a social favorite in Salineville. She has been the Bell Telephone exchange operator here for several years. The groom is a young physician and a son of Robert Vasey and wife. The happy couple were both reared in Salineville and have a wide circle of friends.

Quite a number of Salineville citizens drove to Carrollton yesterday to attend the monster Republican meeting, where ex-Senator Thurston and C. L. Weems addressed the voters of Carroll county.

The new building in which the People's Banking company will open for business about November 20, is almost completed. It was the intention to open November 1, but the company was unable to get all its fixtures in time.

Salineville physicians are enjoying an extensive practice. All the doctors in town are busy. There is more sickness in Salineville now than there has been for the past five years.

The village council at a recent meeting found on totalling up the monthly bills that it was short $275 in the funds to pay the bills. It at once opened negotiations with the president of the People's Banking company of Amsterdam for sufficient funds to last till December, when the taxes will come in. The money was placed in the treasury and the council passed the pay ordinance.

Frank Bright, night operator at the Western Union office, is confined to his home from an attack of asthma. The day operator, J. C. Taylor, was obliged to work two shifts and he was almost exhausted when an operator relieved him.

The water works trustees expect to install an air compressor at the city pumping station soon. The water for the village is obtained from wells, and the pumps will not drain the wells.

After some delay the trustees are now ready to equip the water works with an air compressor. It will be installed in the pump house west of the village.

Not having a fire while he was in the office of fire chief one year, John H. Madison has resigned from the office. Council accepted the resignation and the village is now without a chief. The office is an appointive one, from the hands of the mayor. It carries a salary of $50 a year.

What You Ought To Know About Ohio Tax Laws

A DISCUSSION BY
LAWYER THORNDIKE AND FARMER PERKINS

NUMBER NINE (To Be Completed in Ten Numbers.)

EXCESS INTEREST PAID IN OHIO ON ACCOUNT OF TAXATION METHODS.

FARMER PERKINS—What extra interest have the people of Ohio paid in 20 years past on account of the supposed taxation of mortgages and credits?

Lawyer Thorndike—The Ohio statistics of mortgages, recorded each year in Ohio, for the past 20 years, are worthless because Hamilton county did not report in seven years of that time. Knox, Pike and Highland are left out each one year in that time, and so the statistics are not complete. In 1888 the entire mortgages on real estate in Ohio in force, exclusive of railroads, were $330,999,265.78. Assuming these figures for the 20 years prior to 1903 to be uniform, and that the annual charge for the risk of taxation was 1% per cent, which statisticians figure out as the rule in California, where mortgages are taxed separately, the debtors in Ohio in the past 20 years have paid out $1,058,496,219.48 in excess interest which they would not have paid had mortgages and credits not been taxed, or rather threatened to be taxed.

Farmer Perkins—Was it not intended by Alfred Kelley that this $1,058,496,219.48 excess interest should have gone to the state as taxes?

Lawyer Thorndike—This was his intention, and that is the policy of the law, but the money never went to the state, but has gone to the creditor classes to pay them for risk which they avoided.

Farmer Perkins—Is there any way to ascertain the excess interest paid by debtors in Ohio by reason of the declared intention of the state to tax mortgages and credits in the ten years past?

Lawyer Thorndike—Yes, there was $893,226,658 mortgages, excluding railroad mortgages, recorded in Ohio in the 10 years from 1893 to 1902, both years inclusive. Of these years the secretary of state left out Hamilton county in 1893, 1894, 1895, 1899 and 1900, five years. Knox, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897 and 1898, five years. ## REALM OF SPORTS

BOWLING LEAGUE
A POSSIBILITY

Talk of Organizing Both a Woman's Club And a Gentlemen's League.

Interest in bowling is increasing. There is strong talk of organizing a league of about eight teams, the members to consist of the enthusiasts of both young and old. There are many expert bowlers in the city and they will be divided among those who are not so experienced and by that means all of the teams will be on an equal basis.

As is well known there are already several teams, but the number is not sufficient to keep enthusiasm when it generally arises in the winter season. After the league is formed the winning team will be open for a challenge from all nearby towns. Lisbon, Sebring, Wellsville, Beaver Falls, Rochester and others have crack teams and an endeavor will be made to arrange dates with all of them.

There is also talk of organizing a ladies' bowling team, and it is conceded that such an organization will incite more interest than was ever shown. In this city there are quite a number of excellent lady bowlers and they take to the game like a cat to sweet milk.

Match at Beaver Falls.

Joe Youngs, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mull Bouser, of Natrona, Pa., have been secured to engage in a scientific boxing contest to take place before the Nonpareil Athletic club of Beaver Falls on Tuesday evening November 3. The contest will be a 10-round bout.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

McGovern is disabled for two months by a sore hand.

Joe McGinnity, the New York National's pitcher, gets a $1,000 increase in salary and will stay with the club.

Joe Walcott is willing to fight Joe Gans if the latter will consent to allow him to weigh in at 140 pounds at 3 p. m. on the afternoon of the battle.

Bob Fitzsimmons has taken Terry McGovern's old quarters at Croll's garden in San Francisco and has started active work for George Gardner. Bob says his weight is exactly 177 pounds.

There ought to be some special and particular punishment for the Omaha man who, it is stated, in telegraphic dispatches, has taught his 28-month-old baby to fight and has already pitted him against seven baby opponents, whom the youngster has "whipped."

"IMPOSSIBLE," for you to enjoy the happiness of motherhood," says the doctor. Sometimes he qualifies the statement, and says: "Impossible without an operation." Yet both these "impossibles" have been made possible by the use of Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription. Many times the hindrances to motherhood are to be found in womanly diseases or weaknesses, which are perfectly and permanently cured by "Favorable Prescription."

This great medicine cures irregularity and dries debilitating drams. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I wish to add my testimony to that of others as to the value of Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. M. M. DeFord, of Latona, Hubbard Co., Minn. "Have doctored with a great many physicians and specialists, but have had no success. My case has been regarded as a hopeless one, and they knew not what the trouble was. I was bad; stomach all out of order; tired out; severe pains in all parts of the body; sinking spirit, and nearly dead. I have had to give up many a bottle of 'patent medicines' without effect. Taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and ten months afterward, I gave birth to a tempo-<sup>tempo</sup> baby, a girl, who is now a healthy child. Both the baby and myself were strong, and I got along splendidly—thank you, my doctor."

What You Ought To Know About Ohio Tax Laws

A DISCUSSION BY
LAWYER THORNDIKE AND FARMER PERKINS

NUMBER NINE (To Be Completed in Ten Numbers).

EXCESS INTEREST PAID IN OHIO ON ACCOUNT OF TAXATION METHODS.

FARMER PERKINS — What extra interest have the people of Ohio paid in 20 years past on account of the supposed taxation of mortgages and credits?

LAWYER THORNDIKE — The Ohio statistics of mortgages, recorded each year in Ohio, for the past 20 years, are worthless because Hamilton county did not report in seven years of that time. Knox, Pike and Highland are left out each one year in that time, and so the statistics are not complete. In 1888 the entire mortgages on real estate in Ohio in force, exclusive of railroads, were $320,999,205.78. Assuming these figures for the 20 years prior to 1903 to be uniform, and that the annual charge for the risk of taxation was 1% per cent, which statisticians figure out as the rule in California, where mortgages are taxed separately, the debtors in Ohio in the past 20 years have paid out $1,058,496,219.48 in excess interest which they would not have paid had mortgages and credits not been taxed, or rather threatened to be taxed.

FARMER PERKINS — Was it not intended by Mr. Kelley that this $1,058,496,219.48 excess interest should have gone to the state as taxes?

LAWYER THORNDIKE — This was his intention, and that is the policy of the law, but the money never went to the state, but has gone to the creditor classes to pay them for a risk which they avoided.

FARMER PERKINS — Is there any way to ascertain the excess interest paid by debtors in Ohio by reason of the declared intention of the state to tax mortgages and credits in the ten years past?

LAWYER THORNDIKE — Yes, there was $893,226,658 mortgages, excluding railroad mortgages, recorded in Ohio in the 10 years from 1893 to 1902, both years inclusive. Of these years the secretary of state left out Hamilton county in 1893, 1894, 1895, 1899 and 1900, five years. Knox was left out in 1894, 1895, and Pike in 1895. Restoring these amounts to the list, from the best sources of information, at $34,697,847, would make $927,924,505 in mortgages recorded each year for 10 years. The excess interest for the risk of the mortgages being taxed is estimated at 13% per cent. This would make the excess interest for 10 years paid by debtors in Ohio to creditors, for the risk of taxes $16,238,678.74, but this is only on the mortgages reported recorded each year. These may conservatively be estimated at 33 1/3 per cent of the entire number of mortgages in force each year. Consequently it is certain that Ohio debtors have in the 10 years between 1893 and 1902 paid $38,716,034.76 in excess interest for the principles of taxation of Mr. Alfred Kelley appearing in the constitution, without being enforced. Surely the taxbearers in Ohio must be made of the stuff of the ancient martyrs.

FARMER PERKINS — Then the people in Ohio in the past 10 years have carried a mortgage indebtedness of $2,783,733.51? How much of this was reported for taxation for the same period?

LAWYER THORNDIKE — Not over one-third, as the statistics in the auditor of state's report, and those in the report of the secretary of state, show.

From 1897 the annual return of the entire personal property in the state has steadily diminished, as follows:

1897. $99,227,416; 1898. $93,847,553;

1899. $90,135,764; 1900. $86,997,804;

1901. $82,668,532; 1902. $80,028,411.

Everyone knows the true ratio was the other way, but when 50 per cent of the entire number of mortgages in force each year are not returned for taxation the state is compelled to return personal property diminish their returns as much as possible.

FARMER PERKINS — Is there no way in which the amount of interest unnecessarily paid by the citizens of Ohio from 1897 to 1902, both years inclusive, can be estimated?

LAWYER THORNDIKE — From 1857 to 1902, both years inclusive, the mortgages recorded in Ohio each year, of all those years, aggregated $2,956,150,733. No statistics were preserved between 1847 and 1857, but it would be safe to put the mortgages recorded from 1847 to 1856, both years inclusive, at $160,815,266.07, which is 50 per cent of the amount in the following decade. This would make the whole amount of mortgages recorded in the period, i.e., 1847 to 1902, $3,116,969,57. One and three-fourths per cent of this is $701,317,274.97 excess interest, which the debtors of Ohio have paid their creditors for the taxes, which the state never received, but which made the rich that much richer and the poor that much poorer. Let the tax be taken off mortgages and credits and in the next 57 years more than that much will be saved to the debtor class.

FARMER PERKINS — Real estate in the whole United States is appraised for taxation at 41 per cent of its real value. Personal property valued at $25,492,546,864 in the census of 1890 was appraised for taxation at $6,516,616,743, about 25 per cent, but deducting mines and quarries from the personality, $1,291,579, the real estate is taxed at 22 5/10 per cent of its real value.

LAWYER THORNDIKE — The shifting, turning and trading in the state board is a disgrace to the state and to the people. Each county is trying to have the lowest valuation in the state, and throw its burden of state taxation for ten years, on the other counties.

FARMER PERKINS — The shifting, turning and trading in the state board is a disgrace to the state and to the people. Each county is trying to have the lowest valuation in the state, and throw its burden of state taxation for ten years, on the other counties.

A POSSIBILITY

Talk of Organizing Both a Woman's Club And a Gentlemen's League.

Interest in bowling is increasing. There is strong talk of organizing a league of about eight teams, the members to consist of the enthusiasts of both young and old. There are many expert bowlers in the city and they will be divided among those who are not so experienced and by that means all of the teams will be on an equal basis.

As is well known there are already several teams, but the number is not sufficient to keep enthusiasm when it generally arises in the winter season.

After the league is formed the winning team will be open for a challenge from all nearby towns. Lisbon, Sebring, Wellsville, Beaver Falls, Rochester and others have crack teams and an endeavor will be made to arrange dates with all of them.

There is also talk of organizing a ladies' bowling team, and it is conceded that such an organization will incite more interest than was ever shown. In this city there are quite a number of excellent lady bowlers and they take to the game like a cat to sweet milk.

Match at Beaver Falls.

Joe Youngs, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mull Bouser, of Natrona, Pa., have been secured to engage in a scientific boxing contest to take place before the Nonpareil Athletic club of Beaver Falls on Tuesday evening November 3. The contest will be a 10-round bout.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

McGovern is disabled for two months by a sore hand.

Joe McGinnity, the New York National's pitcher, gets a $1,000 increase in salary and will stay with the club.

Joe Walcott is willing to fight Joe Gans if the latter will consent to allow him to weigh in at 140 pounds at 3 p. m. on the afternoon of the battle.

Bob Fitzsimmons has taken Terry McGovern's old quarters at Croll's garden in San Francisco and has started active work for George Gardner. Bob says his weight is exactly 177 pounds.

There ought to be some special and particular punishment for the Omaha man who, it is stated, in telegraphic dispatches, has taught his 28-month old baby to fight and has already pitted him against seven baby opponents, whom the youngster has "whipped."

CAN'T KEEP IT UP

Can't Deceive East Liverpool People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

"IMPOSSIBLE," for you to enjoy motherhood," says the doctor. Sometimes he qualifies the statement, and says: "Impossible without an operation." Yet both these "impossibles" have been made possible by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Many times the hindrances to motherhood are to be found in womanly diseases or weaknesses, which are perfectly and permanently cured by "Favorite Prescription."

This great medicine cures irregular menstruation and dries up the debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I wish to add my testimony to hundreds of others as to the value of Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Ida M. De Ford, of Latona, Hubbard Co., Minn. "Having suffered with a great many different diseases, I have been compelled to go to a hospital for treatment. My case has been regarded as a hopeless one, and they knew not what the trouble was. Heart was bad; stomach often ached; I could not sleep; I had a pain in the body, sinking spells, and nearly every ailment a woman could have. I took many a bottle of 'patient medicines' without effect. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and ten months afterward I was well again. As a result, I can now state as a fact that I never could bear a child. Both the baby and myself were strong, and I got along splendidly—thanks to your medicine."

by railroads has led to a search of the records. In the records of the supreme court of Ohio at Columbus, in the case of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railway vs. Frank Schaffer, is found the following:

"From page 14 of the Reply Brief for Plaintiff in Error, by John H. Clarke, general solicitor for the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad company, plaintiff in error:

"With such an array of authority it seems incontestable that the contract or conspiracy alleged to have been entered into by the defendant Nickel Plate company, even if proved to have been made, was a perfect lawful transaction. If the allegation of plaintiff's second amended petition be construed by this court as the supreme court of Illinois construed precisely similar ones, the effect of the petition is to charge that the defendant company conspired with other companies to agree that none of them would employ any man except he brought with him when applying for employment his service record. This surely was not only a lawful thing to do, but highly commendable.

"I, Lawson E. Emerson, clerk of the supreme court of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is truly and correctly copied from page 14 of the Reply Brief for Plaintiff in Error filed in the supreme court of Ohio on the 18th day of May, A. D. 1901, by John H. Clarke, general solicitor for the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad company, in cause No. 6395, on the general docket of the supreme court of Ohio in which the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad company was Plaintiff in Error and Frank Schaffer Defendant in Error.

"Witness my hand and seal of said court this 26th day of October, A. D. 1903.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place, but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Caroline White, of 225 Railroad street, East End, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found great relief from the treatment, although I am 70 years of age, and had about given up all hope of ever being helped. I took medicine and my back ached just the same, grew stiff and lame when sitting long or when lying in bed and sharp twinges of pain and other symptoms convinced me my kidneys were out of order. Always on the lookout for anything that might bring relief, when I heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. After using that for a short time I could plainly notice the good effects they were causing. I continued some time longer and gradually but surely improved. I found Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy and advise others to try them, feeling confident if they do so they will have no cause to regret it."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, October 29.—(Special)

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Dr. James Crosser when Rev. Mr. Perey performed the ceremony uniting for life Miss Belle E. Crosser and Dr. C. E. Vasey. Miss Bessie Thompson, of Lisbon, presided at the piano. The bride is a social favorite in Salineville. She has been the Bell Telephone exchange operator here for several years. The groom is a young physician and a son of Robert Vasey and wife. The happy couple were both reared in Salineville and have a wide circle of friends.

Quite a number of Salineville citizens drove to Carrollton yesterday to attend the monster Republican meeting, where ex-Senator Thurston and C. L. Weems addressed the voters of Carroll county.

The new building in which the People's Banking company will open for business about November 20, is almost completed. It was the intention to open November 1, but the company was unable to get all its fixtures in time.

Salineville physicians are enjoying an extensive practice. All the doctors in town are busy. There is more sickness in Salineville now than there has been for the past five years.

The village council at a recent meeting found on totalling up the monthly bills that it was short $275 in the funds to pay the bills. It at once opened negotiations with the president of the People's Banking company of Amsterdam for sufficient funds to last till December, when the taxes will come in. The money was placed in the treasury and the council passed the pay ordinance.

After some delay the trustees are now ready to equip the water works with an air compressor. It will be installed in the pump house west of the village.

Not having a fire while he was in the office of fire chief one year, John H. Madisen has resigned from the office. Council accepted the resignation and the village is now without a chief. The office is an appointive one, from the hands of the mayor. It carries a salary of $50 a year.

ATTEMPTED BLACKMAIL.

Senator Hanna and Columbus Merchant Threatened by Woman. Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Deputy United States Marshal Bauer received from the district attorney at Cincinnati a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Samuel Boswell of this city, on the charge of using the mails to defraud, but she was too ill to be taken into custody. It is alleged in the affidavit that Mrs. Boswell sent through the mails a letter to Z. L. White, a leading merchant of Columbus, demanding that he pay her $800 or "certain facts" would be exposed. It is alleged that the woman sent a similar letter to Senator Hanna demanding $500. The name "Anna Lim" was signed to the letters in both instances.

The identity of the sender was ascertained through a decoy letter. When confronted by a post office inspector it is alleged that Mrs. Boswell admitted having sent the letters, saying she knew nothing derogatory to the persons to whom they had been addressed and that her act was inspired solely by a desire to obtain money.

When Deputy Marshal Bauer called at the Boswell residence to serve the warrant he found the woman suffering from nervous prostration and unable to move from the house. An agreement was made by which Mrs. Boswell will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Johnson as soon as she is sufficiently recovered. Mrs. Boswell is 55 years old. Her husband is a traveling salesman.

Missionary Dead in China. New York, Oct. 29.—Rev. Osman F. Hall, M. D., medical missionary at Chinkung, West China, is dead, according to a cablegram received by the missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Hall was born in 1865 and received the degree of Doctor of medicine from Northwestern university medical school, Chicago, in 1888. In January, 1899, he was appointed a medical missionary.

Hiring Male Messengers. Boston, Oct. 29.—The Western Union Telegraph company, whose messengers are locked out, hired 50 men and boys to assist in delivering messages. An official said that the new force had been hired to do the work found too hard for the girls hired in place of the locked out messengers. The former employees regard the action as an indication of approaching victory for them.

Dynamite Found Under Station. Seattle, Oct. 29.—Four sticks of dynamite, with fuses attached all ready for lighting, have been found underneath the Tacoma-Seattle interurban railway station. The find caused great excitement, owing to recent explosions at night at nearby points, which, however, did no damage. The police think the station was to have been blown up.

Fishermen Missing. Port Chester, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Dean Berrian, William Sayer and Douglas Smith, young men of this place, left Monday on a small auxiliary yacht for a fishing trip and have not since been heard from. A boat, said to have been that on which they sailed, has been found bottom up off Stamford, Conn.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES NEWS

Office Wine and Spirit Review, San Francisco, October 21.

To the Editor of the News Review:

Dear Sir—The business men of this city who are now proclaiming to the world the discovery of the cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, have asked me as one of the beneficiaries to write to some of my brother editors. Hence this letter to you. I was at first as skeptical as anyone. I had reason to be; I had a clear case of chronic Bright's Disease; was ill for a year. It was not thought I would live 30 days. The president of the Pacific States Type Foundry told my wife that the newly-discovered diuretic would save my life, and against my private convictions I was put on it. In six months my recovery was complete.

A friend of mine, Dr. A. J. Howe, a prominent physician, was nearly dead with Bright's Disease. On my recovery I told him and it acted the same in his case and he is now well on the road to recovery. I told one of the writers on the call, whose mother had diabetes. She has fully recovered. As a brother editor I personally assure you of the truth of the discovery. Thousands of lives are to be saved and I am writing in the hope that this letter will start some of them right.

Fraternally yours,

R. M. WOOD, Editor.

St. Louis Trust Companies Define Offers of Assistance from Other Cities.

FINANCIAL FLURRY ABOUT OVER

Demands of Depositors Promptly Met. One Institution Closes With Million More Cash Than When Run Began. Others Report Ample Funds.

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—The statement of President Julius S. Walsh, of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, whose sentiments are echoed by other trust company officials of St. Louis, that "the situation is thoroughly in hand, the excitement has subsided and from this on we expect business will be conducted in the usual orderly manner," expresses the opinion that seems general, after the unwanted financial conditions which prevailed here. Officers of all the trust companies state that voluntary offers of help were received from financial institutions in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, Boston and many of the smaller towns of Missouri and Illinois, but all were declined for the reason that they had sufficient cash with which to handle their business. Expressions of confidence and offers of aid on the part of national banks, financial and other institutions of St. Louis have helped to strengthen the situation and restore confidence.

No Reason for Further Concern. "The flurry is over," said A. A. B. Woerheide, president of the Lincoln Trust company. "Long before our regular closing hour arrived all those who desired their money had received it and departed. There is no reason for further concern."

President Julius S. Walsh, of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, said: "There is absolutely nothing in the past or present condition of our company to justify the slightest apprehension. All demands of every kind were met, and we had more cash on hand when we closed than when we opened Tuesday morning."

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust company, said: "The Mercantile Trust company received voluntary offers from financial institutions of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, St. Joseph and San Francisco, sufficient to pay off every dollar of its deposits just from the East."

Tiflis, Oct. 29.—Prince Galitzin, governor general of the Caucasus, had a narrow escape from assassination on the outskirts of the town. Three natives stabbed the governor general three times. They fled, but were subsequently shot down by Cossacks.

Venice, Oct. 29.—The attempt upon the life of Prince Galitzin, governor general of the Caucasus, was in revenge for his having advised the government to take control of Armenia. The blow was struck in anger, which may have been more severe than was intended, and the girl's murder was thus accomplished and the body dismembered as if found, the story being concocted as related by her mother. Who struck the fatal blow or blows is only conjecture and may develop at the coroner's inquest this evening.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Knows Nothing of It—Mr. Jones, of the Enterprise laundry, of the West End, says he is not aware that any of his girl employes are mixed up in the trouble between Mrs. Ollie Dickey and her husband.

Italians Depart—Two large gangs of Italian laborers, who have been employed on the C. & P. grading for double track in this vicinity, left last night in charge of an Italian overseer, who will take them to a similar job in another part of the country.

Still Plenty of Freight—Freight traffic on the C. & P. is slackening up, owing to the closing of lake trade. The shifting crews here still find plenty of work, and the river and hillside yards are filled with outgoing and incoming cars. The two day shifters took between 20 and 25 cars to Wells-ville last night.

Pythians Prospering—Peabody Lodge No. 19, K. of P., has been enjoying a great deal of prosperity of late. It initiated seven candidates at the last meeting, four of whom were from Irondale. A banquet followed the initiatory ceremonies. It has a candidate for the Page rank at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, November 3.

Boys Must Be Careful—Mayer Weaver announces that a careful watch will be made on next Saturday evening, Hallowe'en, of the boys and girls who have been in the habit of destroying property while in celebration of the event. The mayor will not interfere with innocent fun, but will instruct his officers to see that no gross violations are committed.

Strongly Anti-Cigarette—Supt. Rayman is up in arms over the act of a merchant in selling tobacco to a boy of 14 years. He ported the matter to Mayor Weaver yesterday afternoon.

A FINE WORK OF ART FREE TO ALL READERS

How Subscribers to the News Review May Receive the Valuable Picture "Contentment."

The News Review will give to any one, old or new subscriber, taking the daily edition for three months at 10 cents per week, a copy of the famous painting, "Contentment," by Max Monnebruch, a renowned painter of Dresden, Germany. The pictures are sold by art stores at $1.80 each.

Old subscribers wishing to secure the picture can do so by calling in person at the office and paying three months' subscription in advance.

The subject of the painting is one that appeals to all. The tall, graceful figure of a beautiful young girl, standing with her hands clasped back over her head in an attitude suggestive of "contentment," her long, silken hair falling over the dark olive kimono, with its bright scarlet folds, combine to make a color study that is both attractive and pleasing.

The picture can be seen in the windows of the News Review office or at any news stand.

T. B. STROUD'S STAND

Reasons Why He Cannot Be Concerned in the Clerks' Dispute.

Since the retail clerks suspended operations last evening, there has been some criticism of the action of certain members in remaining at work. Among the number is Thomas B. Stroud, who has been a trusted employee of the firm of Frank, Shumaker & Co. for several years. Mr. Stroud entered the firm's employ when quite a young man. By perseverance, and a close application to the business he has become a valuable man to the firm.

Several weeks ago an arrangement was made whereby Mr. Stroud came in possession of stock in the company. To that time he had been a faithful member of the retail clerks' union No. 133, but owing to existing laws of that organization he was compelled to sever his connection with the union. This was done in the regular way long before the strike was thought of, and no blame whatever can be attached to his present attitude. He is a member of the firm, and cannot be affiliated with the union under any circumstances.

No subject interests one more than travel. I once had the pleasure of attending a number of John L. Stoddard's lectures, and so valuable did I consider them that I determined to have the lectures in book form as soon as published.

The works have been in my library about two years and have been a source of great pleasure.

No other traveler has given us so much condensed and useful information.

He takes the reader with him around the world and tells him about the countries in such a beautiful and entertaining way that one for the time imagines he is the real traveler. I would not like to do without my Stoddard's Lectures.

The testimony of Mr. Thompson is in line with that of eighty thousand other owners of the Stoddard Lectures. ## HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

KNOWS NOTHING OF IT—Mr. Jones, of the Enterprise laundry, of the West End, says he is not aware that any of his girl employees are mixed up in the trouble between Mrs. Ollie Dickey and her husband.

ITALIANS DEPART—Two large gangs of Italian laborers, who have been employed on the C. & P. grading for double track in this vicinity, left last night in charge of an Italian overseer, who will take them to a similar job in another part of the country.

STILL PLENTY OF FREIGHT—Freight traffic on the C. & P. is slackening up, owing to the closing of lake trade. The shifting crews here still find plenty of work, and the river and hillside yards are filled with outgoing and incoming cars. The two day shifters took between 20 and 25 cars to Wellsville last night.

PHIANTHROPY PROSPERING—Peabody Lodge No. 19, K. of P., has been enjoying a great deal of prosperity of late. It initiated seven candidates at the last meeting, four of whom were from Irondequoit. A banquet followed the initiatory ceremonies. It has a candidate for the Page rank at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, November 3.

BOYS MUST BE CAREFUL—Mayer Weaver announces that a careful watch will be made on next Saturday evening, Hallowe'en, of the boys and girls who have been in the habit of destroying property while in celebration of the event. The mayor will not interfere with innocent fun, but will instruct his officers to see that no gross violations are committed.

STRONGLY ANTI-CIGARETTE—Supt. Rayman is up in arms over the act of a merchant in selling tobacco to a boy of 14 years. He ported the matter to Mayor Weaver yesterday afternoon.

A FINE WORK OF ART FREE TO ALL READERS

How Subscribers to the News Review May Receive the Valuable Picture "Contentment."

The News Review will give to any one, old or new subscriber, taking the daily edition for three months at 10 cents per week, a copy of the famous painting, "Contentment," by Max Meunierbruch, a renowned painter of Viresen, Germany. The pictures are sold by art stores at $1.80 each.

Old subscribers wishing to secure the picture can do so by calling in person at the office and paying three months' subscription in advance.

The subject of the painting is one that appeals to all. The tall, graceful figure of a beautiful young girl, standing with her hands clasped back or her head in an attitude suggestive of "contentment," her long, silky hair falling over the dark olive kimono, with its bright scarlet folds, combine to make a color study that is both attractive and pleasing.

The picture can be seen in the windows of the News Review office or at any news stand.

T. B. STROUD'S STAND

Reasons Why He Cannot Be Concerned in the Clerks' Dispute.

Since the retail clerks suspended operations last evening, there has been some criticism of the action of certain members in remaining at work. Among the number is Thomas B. Stroud, who has been a trusted employee of the firm of Frank Shumaker & Co. for several years. Mr. Stroud entered the firm's employ when quite a young man. By perseverance, and a close application to the business he has become a valuable man to the firm.

Several weeks ago an arrangement was made whereby Mr. Stroud came in possession of stock in the company. To that time he had been a faithful member of the retail clerks' union No. 133, but owing to existing laws of that organization he was compelled to sever his connection with the union. This was done in the regular way long before the strike was thought of, and no blame whatever can be attached to his present attitude. He is a member of the firm, and cannot be affiliated with the union under any circumstances.

MR. WILL L. THOMPSON

One of the City's Prominent Citizens Pays Tribute to Stoddard's Lectures.

No subject interests me more than travel. I once had the pleasure of attending a number of John L. Stoddard's lectures, and so valuable did I consider them that I determined to have the lectures in book form as soon as published.

The works have been in my library about two years and have been a source of great pleasure.

No other traveler has given us so much condensed and useful information. He takes the reader with him around the world and tells him about the countries in such a beautiful and entertaining way that one for the time imagines he is the real traveler. I would not like to do without my Stoddard's Lectures.

(Signed) WILL L. THOMPSON.

The testimony of Mr. Thompson is in line with that of eighty thousand other owners of the Stoddard Lectures. Among all the works that have been placed on the market there is none that so nearly fills the place of the genuine home book. It is used all the time by all the members of the family. The whole world is thus visited by them under the guidance of the great traveler for a mere trifl.

It is like reveling in the beauties of some enchanted fairies' palace and wander among the world's treasures side by side with Mr. Stoddard.
